

Andy Burnett is Technology Director and Creativity/Knowledge Management Leader at Pentacle the Virtual Business School. He is also Managing Director and Principal Consultant for Knowledge Associates Innovation and a Research Fellow at Cranfield School of Management. He was co-founder of the Centre for Creativity at Cranfield, with specific focus on the role of technology in supporting creative thinking. He has developed a range of Lotus Notes/Domino based creativity tools, known as Knowledger. Innovation, and has run a number of public computer supported creativity courses. He has consulted in the banking, aerospace and computing industries as well as working with a wide range of smaller businesses.

PENTACLE